India's 105 million girls are being left behind. It is estimated that 64% of adolescent girls drop out of school before completing grade 8. To close this dire gender gap, we must address the roots of the problem and change the way we educate India's girls.

Avasara Academy provides a novel solution to this complex challenge. An innovative secondary school and leadership academy, Avasara provides world-class faculty and a rigorous college preparatory curriculum to India's brightest girls, no matter their caste, class, color or creed. With its unique emphasis on leadership and entrepreneurship and culture of mentorship and lifelong support, Avasara will help its students make substantial academic gains, enabling them to lead and succeed beyond their high school and college years.

Donate today and make a sustainable difference for India's girls.
